ABOUT US

With our Head Office situated in Springfield Park, Durban, our name resonates with locals, as the Zulu word “Enkulu” translates to “big” or “great”. This echoes our great solution offering backed up with fantastic support value - it brings real meaning to our business. We are a distributor of a wide range of high-quality security equipment, software, and technology. We take pride in being able to tailor make simple solutions made up from complex requirements. Enkulu Technologies was established in 2018 and has brought on extremely knowledgeable personnel to ensure that the right solutions are deployed to the trade market. With over 50 years of combined high-level expertise across our staff complement, we feel confident that we can navigate even the most complex scenarios.
